The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JANUARY 19TH, 1910.

The Japan newspapers reaching us this week give us the grounds on which the Japanese public bases its opposition to America's proposal for the neutralization of the railways in Manchuria which are now controlled by Russia and Japan. In giving a summary of the views expressed we may first note a statement by Baron Goro, the Minister of Communications, who was formerly President of the South Manchurian Railway. His Excellency is reported to have told an interviewer that the proposal now made for the international management of the Manchurian railways is not new, as at the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war, the suggestion was confidentially made by the late Mr. HARRIMAN, and again while Baron Goro was President of Japan's section of the railway he was approached with a similar proposal by "a certain person" who considered it inadvisable for Japan to control the line. In what respect the unnamed parties deemed it inadvisable is not definitely stated, but the Baron's further remarks lead us to suppose that considerations of the financial strain on Japan's already strained resources led to a renewal of the proposal, for the Baron informed them that Japan would have no financial difficulty in managing the line. The same people pressed the proposal on him again at a later date, when some of the Japanese newspapers were criticising the railway, and His Excellency surmised that the proposal now made by the American Government emanated, directly or indirectly, from the same source. Whether the promoters were Americans, Englishmen, Japanese, Russians or Turks is not stated; nor are we much concerned to know. What is chiefly interesting is the nature of the objection to the proposal. Baron Goro thinks the scheme has been formulated by ambitious persons in China who wish to be revenged on Japan and Russia, and he says that so far from conserving the integrity of China it would have quite the contrary effect. Both Baron Goro and Mr. NAKAMURA, his successor in the Presidency of the South Manchurian Railway, strongly repudiate the suggestion that there has been any violation of the open-door policy, and consequently they see no reason why Japan should abandon a railway which was one of the prizes she secured in a costly war. Viscount Aoki, a former Foreign Minister, who has also served as Ambassador at Washington, likened the American proposal to a bill prepared by a guest without consulting the hotel-keeper, and he went on to explain that Japan and Russia were the hotel-keepers in Manchuria. That just represents the objection which has formed the basis of the neutralisation scheme. The commercial Powers who signatories to the Note in which the Open Door and Equal Opportunity Policy was formulated cannot admit the right of Japan and Russia to assume the role of Manchurian hotel-keepers, for the position, as Viscount Aoki perceives, places the other Powers in the category of "guests" who are subject to the orders and the charges of the "hotel-keepers." It seems an unfortunate simile for a Japanese diplomat to employ having in mind the criticisms which led to the proposal. Perhaps, however, the most interesting statement on the subject comes from Count OKUMA. His Excellency is represented as saying that both Russia and Japan are running their railways at a loss. On consulting the latest Financial and Economic Annual of Japan, published by the Department of Finance, we find no support for the assertion. Some statistics are given of the revenue and expenditure for six months, which shows the earnings of the railway to have been £447,916, while the working expenses amounted to only £286,082. The public of Japan subscribed a tenth part of the capital of this railway on the guarantee of the Government that in the event of the dividend falling short of six per cent. per annum the Government would make up the deficiency. We are not aware that any call has yet been made on the Government under this guarantee. Starting then with the apparently false premise that the line is run at a loss, the Count raised the question of China's ability to pay interest on the proposed international loan. That is a question on which the public can only form an opinion when they know the amount of the loan and combined profits of the railways. Apart from this aspect of the question, we have Count OKUMA commenting on China's incapacity to administer railways, and the complications likely to arise from international control. But this most striking comment of all is that if America's proposal is intended to insure the integrity of China it must likewise be applied to all other railways now worked by foreigners in China. But Count OKUMA has overlooked the important distinction between these and the Manchurian railways. The Japan Chronicle very aptly points out that nowhere except in Manchuria are the railways in which foreigners are financially interested operated under the protection of a guard of soldiers belonging to the country which obtained the concession. In other parts of China "the stations are not excluded from Chinese jurisdiction, and a zone on either side of the line declared extra-territorial. The Chinese Imperial Customs have the same control over the railway stations, where necessary, as over the ports. Consequently no complaints of discrimination have been raised, nor suspicions aroused that the railway is merely a preliminary to territorial aggrandisement on the part of the concessionaires. The position is thus totally dissimilar from that set up in Manchuria, originally by Russian diplomacy, and now continued by Japanese policy." Japanese statesmen indeed are hard put to it to find a convincing argument against acquiescence in the American proposal. It is not forgotten that before the war Japan was loud in her protestations against the control of this railway by Russia. Japan made the same complaints against Russia that we have been hearing against Japan since the southern section of that line passed under her control. Before the war Japan would have warmly supported such a scheme as against Russia, and our Kobe contemporary very aptly suggests that the fact that Japan has now entered into part of the Russian heritage ought to make no difference to the impartial consideration of a project of neutralisation which, if it can only be realised, will undoubtedly do much to preserve the peace of the Orient.

The remarkable feature of the Criminal Sessions yesterday was the number of counterfeit cases which came before the Court. No fewer than thirteen people were charged with tendering, selling or being in possession of spurious coin.

At the Police Court yesterday morning a respectfully dressed Chinaman named Lai Muk was charged with having in his possession without a license 9 candelers of morphia. Mr. Sydenham Dixon appeared for the defence and the case was fixed for Thursday next.

For obstruction in the southern fairway and failing to produce his certificate when called upon to do so by the police, the coxswain of the Kam Po was fined $15.

Three Chinese were charged before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistrate's yesterday with assault and behaving in a disorderly manner. The first and third defendants were convicted on the second charge and fined $10 each or fourteen days. The second defendant was found guilty on both charges and ordered to pay a fine of $30, the alternative being five weeks' imprisonment.

A very pleasant ceremony took place at the Royal Naval Hospital, Hongkong, yesterday morning when Deputy Inspector-General William Tait, M. B., in a few well-chosen words presented: Eick Borth Stewart, Wm. H. Payne with a long service and good conduct medal. The whole of the medical officers, the sisters, and the European staff were present, and afterwards photographed.

From the Christian World we learn that Colonel and Mrs. Lindsay have been chosen by General Booth to carry the "Blood and Fire" into China for the first time. Colonel Lindsay is an old-time Salvationist, having done active service in Australia and the West Indies, besides going through much turbulent warfare at home. Mrs. Lindsay, who is closely connected with Lord Onslow, has also a long record of service to her credit.

The Baroness von Hutton, who a couple of years ago spent some little time in Hongkong, is taking the part of Aunt Emeline in "Pinks and the Fairies," which was played last year by Miss Ellen Terry. A London contemporary says the Baroness has never been on the stage before, and does not intend to adopt it as a profession. She is anxious to write plays, and has therefore taken this opportunity provided by Sir Herbert Tree to learn the technique of the stage.

SUPREME COURT.

Tuesday, 18th January.

IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.

BEFORE THE HON. MR. JUSTICE DAVIDSON

SUTING COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Three men were charged with selling 116 counterfeit Hongkong dollars at a lower rate of value than the Hongkong dollar. Two of the prisoners pleaded not guilty and one pleaded guilty. The Acting Attorney-General (Hon. Mr. T. A. Haselwood), instructed by Mr. Danys, Crown Solicitor, conducted the prosecution. The following jury were empanelled:—Messrs. W. E. Clarke, J. M. de Roche, W. Nicholson, A. Jenkins, G. W. Gegg, S. Smith and J. Pocock.

The Attorney-General stated that some eight or ten days prior to the 4th December a witness whom he would call had an interview with the first prisoner. In consequence of that he went on the 4th December to a certain house, where he saw the three prisoners. However, before he went there he had made an arrangement with the police, and from the sergeant in charge he received $60 with which to buy this counterfeit money. He purchased from the three prisoners 116 counterfeit dollars, for which he paid $58. The evidence against the second and third prisoners was that they took part in the selling.

After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of guilty and prisoners were each sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

SELLING COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Two men were convicted of selling counterfeit coin and one was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and the other to two years' imprisonment.

ANOTHER COUNTERFEIT COIN CASE.

In connection with the previous case, a man who had been found by the police when they raided the house in question in possession of 33 pieces of false coin which he was about to hand to the three other prisoners, was bound over in the sum of $100 to come up for judgment when called upon.

MORE COUNTERFEITERS FURNISHED.

In this the last case of being in possession or uttering or selling counterfeit coin, three men and a woman were originally charged, but the Attorney-General entered a non prosequi in the case of the woman. The three men pleaded on all five counts against them. Their offences were not confined to being in possession of Hongkong and Chinese money of a spurious nature, but also of Indo-China piastres.

The following jury were empanelled:—Messrs. G. Hunter (foreman), J. M. Wong, J. Widdell, H. C. R. Hancock, E. H. S. Somers, C. B. Byers, and G. B. Colson.

Prisoners were sentenced to three years each.

BEFORE MR. H. H. J. GORPERS
(FURNER JUDGE).

TENDERING COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Lee Ting pleaded not guilty to charges of uttering two false ten-cent pieces and to having in his possession 200 five-cent pieces. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, instructed by Mr. Danys, appeared to prosecute, prisoner being unrepresented.

The following jury were empanelled:—Messrs. O. E. F. Eggeert, H. Reeves, E. V. M. B. de Souza, J. J. Robinson, B. M. Castro, P. A. H. Hemeling, and H. C. Jones.

Mr. Alabaster stated that the prisoner bought two oranges from a hawk on the 23rd December and tendered a had ten-cent piece which the hawk refused to accept. He tried him with another which was also spurious, and the hawk made a noise which attracted the attention of the police who arrested the man. The other money was found in his possession.

The jury found prisoner guilty and he was sentenced to imprisonment for two years and six months.

KIDNAPED CHILD FURNISHED.

A woman named Chan Su was convicted of kidnapping a little girl and was sentenced to six years' hard labour. The father missed his daughter and sent folk to look for her. They came upon her in the arms of prisoner on board the steamer Sut. She was ready to sail for Macao.

ANOTHER KIDNAPING CASE.

Ah Fok was charged with stealing a six year old boy from his father's house in Hongkong. He pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Alabaster, who conducted the prosecution, stated that this child had not been recovered. The prisoner had formerly lodged with the father of the child and on the morning of the 2nd December prisoner was seen carrying the child. When arrested he denied the charge, but ultimately made a statement in the Police Court to the effect that he needed money to pay his debts and he put the child on board a Rine Finner steamer.

The jury found prisoner guilty and he was committed to prison for seven years.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

In this case it was alleged that prisoner was one of a gang of seven or eight men which entered a house in Queen's Road Central on the 3rd January with the purpose of committing a robbery, but nothing was stolen. Prisoner was acquitted.

THE LICENSING BOARD.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint the Hon. Sir Henry May, K.C.M.G., Chairman, and Hon. Mr. A. M. Thomson, an official member, and Hon. Messrs. Murray Stewart and Edward O'Brien, unofficial members, of the Licensing Board in accordance with section 5 of the Liquor Licence amended Ordinance, 1909.

Three members remain to be elected by the vote of the Justices of the Peace, who number upwards of two hundred. The nominations have to be in by Friday next. So far, we have heard of only one nomination. Mr. A. Shelton Hooper, who may claim to be among the oldest J.P.'s on the list, has been proposed by the Hon. Mr. W. F. Grogan and seconded by Mr. J. E. M. Smith.

SANITARY BOARD.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held yesterday at the Board Room. Mr. E. D. O. Wolfe presided, and there were present: Hon. Mr. P. N. H. Jones (Vice-President), Hon. Mr. A. W. Brown (Registrar-General), Mr. A. Shelton Hooper, Colonel Bedford, Dr. G. L. Fitzwilliams, Mr. Lau Cha Pak, Mr. Ng Hon Tee, Dr. F. Clark (Medical Officer of Health), Dr. Pearce (A.M.O.H.) and Mr. W. Bowen Rowlands (Secretary).

POKFULAM AND OTHER WATER SERVICES.

Correspondence was submitted relative to the discharge of dirty water from the nullah at Mount Austin into the Pokfulam reservoir.

Colonel Bedford wrote—I have the honour to report for the information of the Sanitary Board that at a recent visit to Mount Austin I found that a waste pipe stated to be from the scullery of the "Haystack" discharges into the nullah which comes down past Mount Austin and flows on to join the Pokfulam reservoir. Moreover, the authorities at Mount Austin inform me that it is a common occurrence for coolies to wash in the stream and to use the banks as a latrine. In view of these facts, and that numerous residences are in close proximity to this nullah, I am strongly of opinion that water collected from this neighbourhood should not be permitted to find its way into the supply for the city.

The Medical Officer of Health wrote—I beg to recommend that Colonel Bedford's letter be forwarded to the Colonial Secretary for the consideration of the Government. I have in past years called attention to the latent danger to a section of the community incident to the use of the Pokfulam reservoir, but this danger does not arise so much from the Peak dwellings which may, as the result of accidental circumstances, at times temporarily drain towards the catchment area of this reservoir; as it does from the very considerable coolie traffic which takes place through this valley. The waste pipe from the scullery of the "Haystack" referred to in Colonel Bedford's letter is blind—that is to say, the inlet to it was completely blocked up with cement some months ago—so that there is no danger from this source. I have suggested, however, that it might be removed entirely. For the past fortnight I have been in communication with the Public Works Department in regard to some small alterations to the drainage of a new house on the same road, namely, "Edgemoor," with a view to further preventing the possibility of any sewage water reaching the Pokfulam area from this house, and these alterations have been already made; and I have also suggested, after consultation with Mr. Jackson, of the Public Works Department, on the premises, a further small alteration to the yard channels of the "Haystack." There is also at this house a small isolated block of coolie quarters draining into a small sump, the contents of which are apparently emptied on to the garden plots, and are with careful supervision, hardly likely to give rise to any danger. The Pokfulam reservoir is fed mainly by two streams, one passing the Mount Austin barracks and traversing one side of the football ground which has been cut by the military authorities just below Craig Rynie, and then passing below Harlech Road, and the other arising by two heads, one near Plunkett's Gap and the other close to Sharpy's bungalow; these two main streams join some short way down the valley, and it would be impossible to cut either of them out of the catchment area without practically abolishing the Pokfulam reservoir, and I understand it will be impossible to disperse with this reservoir until the projected lower reservoir at Tytan is completed. The contamination of either of the streams that feed the Pokfulam reservoir, by a convalescent case of typhoid fever passing the bacilli in his urine—this may continue for some time after convalescence is established or by what is known as a "typhoid carrier," a person who has had typhoid fever for some months or years previously, but who continues to pass the bacilli in the faeces at intervals, owing to the bacilli having established a nidus in the gall bladder from which some of them are intermittently discharged into the intestines—could very well originate an epidemic of this disease, similar to those which have occurred in Worthing, in 1893, when 1,315 cases occurred; in Maidstone, in 1897, when 1,847 cases occurred; or in Lincoln, in 1905, when 900 cases occurred. Such outbreaks have usually been due to the contamination of the water supply by one case only of the disease, and the subsequent drinking of such water, either before filtration, or after inefficient filtration, and it must be remembered that the Pokfulam water is supplied to the whole of Pokfulam, including such European residences as "Douglas Castle," "Villa Lusia," "Blaney Villa," and the Dairy Farm buildings, before filtration, while the filtered supply serves the Peak district and a portion of West Point. The houses receiving the unfiltered supply would therefore no doubt give early warning of any such impending calamity, and prompt measures could be resorted to to stay the spread of the disease. Fortunately also the incidence of typhoid fever among the Chinese population of this Colony is comparatively small; last year there were only seven recognized cases among a Chinese population of 316,702; while among the non-Chinese population of 19,786 the cases numbered 31. In 1907 there were twelve recognized cases among the Chinese population; it is sufficient, however, to show that the danger, although small, is an ever present one and that the community will not be reasonably safe from such an outbreak until the Tytan waterworks are completed, and the Pokfulam reservoir abandoned. The officers of the Public Works Department thoroughly understand the nature of this danger, and I am satisfied that every precaution—short of the actual cutting out of this reservoir from the public water service—is taken to guard against it. The same danger lies, of course, in the possible contamination of either of these streams by excreta from a case of cholera, but fortunately this disease rarely occurs in this Colony. The bacteriological reports concerning the purity of our water supplies, which are received monthly, would not give sufficient timely warning of such contamination as is suggested here, as the presence of the specific organisms would not be detected until some at least of the persons using this water had become infected.

Mr. Hooper, minutes—I fail to see what more the Government can do than the Sanitary Board, except closing the reservoir. The correspondence should be referred to a committee to report upon.

Hon. Mr. Hewett—I consider these nullahs should be trained to the top of the waterfall above Harlech Road.

The Registrar-General—It is not the nullahs that are a source of danger, but the drainage surrounding houses. Extraordinary expenditure in carrying the drainage from these houses out of the catchment area would be justifiable.

The Vice-President—The M. O. H.'s minute fully answers the specific complaint made by Colonel Bedford in his letter. The matters contained in the latter part of the letter should preferably have been referred to the Colonial Secretary or the Water Authority.

IDEAL WATER.
The reports from the Government Analyst and Bacteriologist on a sample of water from a tap at the Pokfulam Police Station were then submitted.

Mr. Frank Brown, the Analyst, stated the results of his examination showed that the water was of excellent quality, and that the Pokfulam collecting area furnished an ideal water supply. A knowledge of the careful supervision of this area, and of the excellent system of purification and distribution of the water, together with the results of many analyses at all seasons, enabled him to state that it was practically impossible for any impure water to reach the public.

Dr. E. A. Shaw, acting Bacteriologist, stated that the sample he examined was a good drinking water, and that there was no local contamination.

Dr. Fitzwilliams minutes—Highly satisfactory.

COLONY'S WATER SUPPLY.
Reports of the analyses of public water supplies for the month of December were submitted. On samples taken from the Kowloon and Pokfulam reservoirs the Government Bacteriologist reported that both were good drinking waters.

With regard to a sample he examined from the Tytan reservoir, he stated that there was evidence of local contamination, and that the source of contamination should be sought for.

Hon. Dr. Atkinson, P.C.M.O., stated that this matter required investigation, as it was of serious import. The proportion of bacilli coli was excessive and unsatisfactory. He suggested that a fresh sample be taken from this hydrant, and examined afresh, as it might be due to some extraneous cause.

Colonel Bedford—I trust that we shall be furnished with further particulars on the important matter of this analysis. I suppose it is not possible that the samples from Pokfulam and Tytan could have been confused?

The President stated that he proposed to take the three items on the agenda concerning the water supply together. It had been proposed that the matter should be referred to a committee.

Mr. Hooper—Before this matter is referred to a committee I would like to make a few remarks. This complaint deals with two things: nuisances arising from buildings in existence; and nuisances which took place, and are likely to take place, on the hillside by stragglers. Concerning the houses, as far as I remember, I think only two affect the question. One is a new house which the Government has quite recently certified is perfectly sanitary, and is built in accordance with all the sanitary laws and regulations in force. If this is not so, I would recommend that notices be served on the owner to comply with the law. With regard to the old house, the "Haystack," I would like to ask whether the law is sufficiently strong to enable us to serve a notice on the owner or occupier to abate a nuisance.

The President—I understand that no nuisance exists now. I think either the Director of Public Works or the Medical Officer of Health are in a position to say. You mean the discharge of sewage water?

Mr. Hooper—I mean the nuisance referred to by the Medical Officer of Health.

The Medical Officer of Health—The complaint was with regard to a down pipe from the "Haystack" referred to by Colonel Bedford. I have suggested that the pipe might be removed entirely. It is a blind waste pipe.

Mr. Hooper—Then there is no danger from the "Haystack"?

The Medical Officer of Health—No.

Mr. Hooper—We are not told where the water that used to go down this pipe goes now.

The Medical Officer of Health—It goes into a sewer running in front of the house.

Mr. Hooper—And that has been connected in a proper way?

The Medical Officer of Health—Yes.

Mr. Hooper—And you are satisfied there is no danger?

The Medical Officer of Health—No.

Mr. Hooper—Then that whitens the question down to the hillside.

The President—To stragglers.

Mr. Hooper—That is what I want to come to. Don't you think with regard to this, that we might requisition the services of the police. I am sure the military would give every assistance, and with the due notice posted up the nuisance might be overcome. Then the question would be reduced to something infinitesimal and would create no alarm so far as the public are concerned. I think it most satisfactory to have the assurance we have had from the Medical Officer of Health.

Colonel Bedford—Sir, now that the subject of the Mount Austin nullah is before the consideration of the Board, I take the opportunity of submitting my views upon the condition of affairs which obtain in the vicinity of this water course. To my mind, the condition of this nullah is, or at any time may become, a menace to the health of the community. This menace presents itself to me in two totally different forms: Firstly, as a channel and collecting area by which impure or contaminated water may be conducted into the Pokfulam Reservoir, which reservoir supplies a considerable section of the community with drinking water. I am bound to admit, and I do so with all willingness, that the chemical and biological tests which are regularly made of this water do not bear out the theory of any present danger to the supply. I go farther, and say that these examinations tell us that this water is one of very considerable purity, containing a minimum of micro-organisms; and it shows, and has shown, a total absence of pathogenic microbes, or even of organisms which would lead us to suspect the presence of any animal or human contamination. It is this absence of suspicious elements that has no doubt justified the perpetration of this source of eking out the not too liberal means of obtaining water for this Colony. Under these circumstances I do not wish to state dogmatically that such justification is either faulty or misplaced. I have ventured to bring the whole matter before the Board in order that the question may be considered deliberately, and without bias. My opinion in this matter may be unsupported; it may be wrong. This is one reason why I favoured the matter being threshed out confidentially. For if I am wrong, if my fears are unsubstantiated ones, it would be without reason that persons should be rendered uncomfortable on account of any suspicion being cast upon the fair name of their water supply. Let me state as briefly as possible my objections to the water, which is collected in or conveyed by this channel, finding its way into the drinking water supply of the Colony. You all saw the analyst's report this morning. He stated that "The Pokfulam collecting area furnishes an ideal water supply. A knowledge of the careful supervision of this area, and of the excellent system of purification and distribution of the water, it is impracticable for any impure water to reach the public." Am I not right in first of all informing this Board that there are a considerable number of people, a large number of residences, and some important industries which are fed by this water before any purification whatever takes place—before it goes to the filter beds?

The Vice-President—A very small section.

Colonel Bedford—A certain section and an important industry. I merely wish to call your attention to that on account of the excellent system of purification and distribution. With regard to the Public Analyst's opinion about the ideal supply, I wish to make these two small quotations: Professor Thresh, on "The examination of water and water supplies," says: "The safest collecting area is doubtless the one upon which there are the fewest inhabitants, the minimum amount of land under cultivation, the smallest number of works of any kind, and the fewest roads and footpaths. Few upland surfaces are reasonably free from the possibility of pollution." With regard to the bacteriological examination the following extract is from Netter and Firth's "Hygiene," page 105: "It often happens, however, that upland surface grounds are only open to pollution from human habitations, &c. In such a condition of things it will be of little use to determine the average bacterial contents of the feeders, because even daily examinations would not enable the supply to be effectively safeguarded. The water, however, must be subjected to the artificial conditions of filtration." My objections to this water supply are as follows: (a) The waterbed supplying the nullah is covered with numerous inhabited dwellings, some of which have quite recently been added; the evil has thus become accentuated. This circumstance alone, at once causes water collected from such a source to be classed as suspicious. The Medical Officer of Health will bear me out in that. (b) A public thoroughfare runs alongside of this nullah for a considerable portion of its length. This road is the highway to all the residences in the neighbourhood. The surface of a part of this road without doubt forms a part of your waterbed, for although there is a gully on the one side of the road, yet the surface of the road is convex, like the deck of a ship, and the gutter of the side slopes away on the slope of the nullah. This may be seen by anyone making a careful inspection of the road every night. What are carried down this road every night? What are the habits of those who convey these nocturnal loads? It was only a few weeks ago that one of these men was convicted of dumping his manure load into an illegitimate destination, while conveying it down this very road. Is there any guarantee that the next offender will not dump it down amongst the trees on the slope itself? If you will walk up the road which runs alongside of this nullah, you will at once observe that sundry paths lead down from the road itself to the water, in the bed of the nullah. What are these paths? They lead no further than the water, and evidently therefore, are not ways of getting across the stream. Who uses them? They bear all the evidence of constant and repeated use. Coolies use them—they go down to the nullah and wash. The occupants of the barracks have seen them. The military have appeared twice in processions against natives for this offence. I hold in my possession a letter from an officer of the Royal Engineers, who writes: "I have also seen several female coolies washing in this stream that feeds Pokfulam Reservoir." I quote this to show that the approaches to this nullah are unprotected except by a notice board. A notice board never keeps boys out of an apple orchard. These coolies may make themselves comfortable in other ways besides performing their ablutions on the banks of your water supply. Such conditions as this, may at any time class your supply as something more than merely "suspectious." Remember that you have a barracks containing 400 men, married families, servants, coolies, &c., who are practically residing on the banks of this nullah. In the event of disease occurring amongst these, does one feel safe? I do not say these buildings drain into the nullah, or that the surface washings from these barracks get into the nullah. Under ordinary circumstances, I do not see how they could, but the same cannot be said of some of the other residences in the neighbourhood. I am happy to know that the pipe which I saw running from the "Haystack" into the nullah is filled in with cement, and is not, therefore, I presume, any longer perforce. But pipes such as this do not increase confidence. Secondly, my other objection against this nullah is that on account of its present most irregular, uneven, and tortuous bed, it must of necessity afford numerous quiet pools, which furnish ample breeding places for our old friends the mosquitoes. The Hon. Mr. Hewett told us that some years ago he brought the matter to the notice of the Board; he states that the P.M.O. of the Forces at that time did not support him. I am sorry for that, as that officer is an old friend of mine. But I can assure Mr. Hewett that the present P.M.O. is entirely with him in this matter. Another instance, I fear, of doctors differing. In 1908 there were 33 admissions for malarial fever from the troops occupying Mount Austin Barracks. Since assuming office in this Command, I caused every soldier in these barracks to be supplied with a mosquito curtain, as heretofore they were not issued to these barracks, the only ones in the Colony not so furnished—presumably on the mistaken notion of protection by altitude. I am happy to say that last year there were only 16 admissions for this disease from these barracks. However that may be, last summer I had a letter complaining about the mosquitoes in this building, and as I told you on another occasion, the anopheles had been found in the Mount Austin barracks. Where did these insects come from? In my opinion, they merely paid a friendly call from their neighbouring residence over the way in the nullah. You are now probably asking, "What is he driving at?" Well, if what I have brought forward this afternoon is supported by the opinion of the Board, it means that the lower reaches of the Mount Austin nullah should be cut out of the water-yielding area of the Colony, or that it should be more amply protected from trespass or contamination. This, I know, a serious matter, in view of the present limited assets of this essential commodity. Nevertheless, it is a logical sequence, if the premises adduced are correct ones. The actual means would be for the consideration of the P.W.D., who might perhaps eliminate the lower portion of the nullah, by taking pipes through it from above, so as not to lose the water from the higher reaches, and get rid of the water from the inhabited area, by diverting it into some other direction. Secondly, to train the bed of the nullah, so as to remove the irregularities, which now offer nurseries for mosquitoes. In conclusion, I wish to assure you, and more especially the Honourable Vice-President, that I have brought this question forward in no spirit of carping criticism on what exists here. To my mind the present state of affairs in this connection is far from satisfactory. I should therefore, as a member of the Sanitary Board, be blameworthy, were I not to tell you so. It is for the Board to judge whether or no there be good grounds for some change to be made. Remember that a water supply is a general supply. A spark of mischief kindled at its source may set up such a conflagration of trouble in the path of its distribution that it may be difficult to extinguish it. In the Army, the first thing we do when we get into camp, is to place a sentry over our water supply, to prevent anyone from contaminating it. Are you satisfied with the present guard over the Mount Austin source of supply? I frankly own that I am not.

The Vice-President said he could hardly agree with Colonel Bedford in a number of his remarks. He could not see that the Pokfulam waterbed was any worse than numerous others in the world where public roads ran through and the houses were in a certain extent inside the catchment. He might mention the Kowloon and Tytan waterworks. Where public roads ran through the catchment there was always some possibility of contamination, and to protect these extreme risks it would take an army of patrols. He considered the present inspection as reasonably good and economical as could be made, but if the Government, after considering all that had been said, were of opinion that sufficient care was not taken of the water supply, he thought they would find means to guard it better. Personally, he thought Colonel Bedford was in the wrong, and that the present precautions were sufficient.

Colonel Bedford proposed that a committee be appointed to inquire into the conditions obtaining with regard to the Mount Austin nullah, and the water supply collected from that area.

Mr. Hooper seconded, and the motion was carried.

The committee appointed was composed of the President, Dr. Fitzwilliams and the Hon. Mr. Bedford.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE STATUE SQUARE DISFIGUREMENT.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

17th January, 1910.

SIR—The writer of "Random Notes" in today's issue of your paper expressed the opinion that I "ought to feel pleased" with the result of representations recently made on the subject of the debris on the Plaza between the Queen's Statue and the Club.

It is, of course, a satisfaction to see the last of the "Drawing Office" and of the far macabre factory, though the two of the chimneys which formerly adorned the latter do now stick up conspicuously out of a new rubbish heap rapidly being formed in the N.E. corner of the enclosure, to take the place of the stacks of poles lately removed across the way.

But these removals were practically promised by the Colonial Secretary, and I for one hoped for more from the personal investigations of His Excellency the Governor.

I for one hoped to learn at an early date that the P. O. contractor had received the necessary three months' notice to quit.

It is therefore with chagrin that I see he is erecting a new palisade on the west of the lot lot to him. I am afraid this means that he has been encouraged in the idea that he will be allowed to remain in possession for a further considerable period. If so, "departmental obstruction" has won the day, and, in that case, I do not feel the least "pleased."

The background of the picture presented by the statue of His Majesty the King is not altered in any respect, except by the new paint on the palisade. Behind that still stands the old array of coats and pants, and behind these again the chimneys of the cook-houses still emit their reeking fumes.

I cannot see that it is necessary to the work on the Post Office that the contractor should be allowed to maintain a species of coolie restaurant on this particular plot. How do the Naval Dock Yard hands manage? They feed out. If they were permitted to have their own cook houses within the Dock Yard, a nice sort of gypsy encampment it would be. But inasmuch as the work there is satisfactorily accomplished without this painful necessity how comes it to be "necessary to the work on the Post Office"? The answer is simple. It is not necessary at all. It is a concession to the Post Office contractor by the P.W.D. at the expense of much irritation to the public who view the nuisance daily. As long as these smoke-begrimed hovels are permitted to appear the whole of the rest of the improvements made are thereby rendered ineffective. If the P. W. D. is determined to maintain in its present proximity to the statue of His Majesty the King this worst feature of the "nuisance," does not common-sense suggest that the contractor should be called upon to build a palisade high enough to hide it from public view—I am, sir, yours truly,

M. STEWART.

[The above letter should have appeared yesterday, but through want of space was held over.—Ed.]

JEWS AND "SHYLOCK."

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE HONGKONG DAILY PRESS.]

SIR—It is indeed strange that in an enlightened age like the present Shakespeare's portrayal of a character like Shylock should be made a subject of controversy. Practically everyone recognizes that the great dramatist did not represent Shylock as typical of the race to which he belonged, and to suggest the opposite is to ignore the facts of history, which attest that there were and are men of other races and nationalities who show a greater cruelty or disposition than did the Jew in the "Merchant of Venice." Many of the critics agree that the real Shylock was Antonio. To show the Jewish appreciation of the Bard of Avon it is only necessary to state that his works have been translated into Hebrew and Arabic.

My object in penning this letter is to express my belief that no intelligent person who reads this play or sees it staged will find in it any attempt to brand a whole nation with the traits of an individual, especially in this progressive and enlightened age, when Christian and Jew, Buddhist and Moslem all together are striving to establish on a firmer basis the brotherhood of man and the federation of the world.—Yours,

AN ISRAELITE.

INTENDING EMIGRANTS FOR AUSTRALIA.

Before Mr. E. R. Hallifax at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon a Chinese broker was prosecuted for obtaining £250 with intent to defraud.

Mr. W. E. L. Shenton (of Messrs. Deacon, Locher & Deacon), who appeared for the prosecution, informed his Worship that on December 1st the defendant informed the complainant that he had two passports by which he could land two men in Australia. After a certain amount of negotiation the complainant went to the defendant's shop at No. 9, Aberdeen Street, and there a bargain was struck, by which the defendant agreed to land two of complainant's clansmen in Australia for a consideration of $1,200. Complainant thereupon paid $250 as a deposit, and it was agreed that the balance should be paid in the event of complainant's clansmen landing in Australia. A few days later complainant again called at defendant's shop, but found that he had left. Subsequently he saw the defendant walking in the street, and had him arrested.

After hearing the evidence his Worship sentenced the defendant to four months' imprisonment with hard labour.

"THE TOREADOR."

Another large audience, which included H.E. the Governor and party, acclaimed the second performance of "The Toreador" last night by the Hongkong Amateur Dramatic Club, and it was noticeable that the production went with even a better swing than it did on the opening night. The occasional hesitation on the part of the artists and the little deficiencies on the part of vocalists and chorus had practically disappeared, and the growing confidence of all on the stage contributed to a highly successful result, an achievement which must reflect creditably on Mr. John Robertson, under whose direction the play was produced. To present "The Toreador" is certainly an ambitious effort for amateurs, but the outcome shows that the confidence which the Club had in its members was thoroughly justified.

Mrs. Moulder again won golden opinions for her charming rendering of the vigorous yet picturesque part of Donna Teresa, and her partner in so many amusing scenes and episodes, Mr. Tester, was loudly applauded for his clever work. Another artist who excelled in the humorous element was Mr. Worcester as Pettibone. Carole (Mr. G. Lammert) was in fine voice and his singing and acting were both much appreciated. Mr. Warbrook was very effective in the rôle of Sir Archibald Slackitt, and Mr. Wilkins did well as Augustus Trull, while Mr. Northcote was very smarting in his double rôle. Mrs. Gilly was received with approbation, and Miss Ella Rowe attracted attention in her part. Handsome bouquets were passed up to the two latter performers by admirers.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The annual meeting of contributors and subscribers was held in the Church Vestry yesterday afternoon, the Rev. H. O. Spink, B.A. Chaplain, in the chair. There were present a fair attendance of ladies and gentlemen, members of the congregation. The members of the 1909 vestry retired in accordance with the Trust Deed of the Church, but were re-elected to serve for the present year. They were Messrs. B. L. Frost, T. Hunter, E. Cornwall Lewis and E. Poekham, in addition to whom the following gentlemen were also elected:—Messrs. H. F. Campbell, J. J. Robson and Major Grace. New officers were created to help in the parochial affairs of the church. Messrs. E. C. Lewis and E. Poekham were appointed wardens, and Messrs. B. E. Fielder, Angell, J. Crawford, and J. Douglas, aidmen. The accounts for the past year were put to the meeting and unanimously adopted and passed.

OPIMUM TRAFFIC IN CHINA.

The Hon. Tong Kai-Son, of Peking, was entertained at breakfast at the Hotel Cecil London, on the 20th ult. by the Society for the Suppression of the Opium Trade, Dr. James L. Maxwell presiding.

The Chairman said that his guest represented three of the most conspicuous features of the present national movement in China—love of his country, large-mindedness and self-restraint, and patience and persistence. Their duty in England was to keep before the Government the utter iniquity of the opium traffic, and, above all, the necessity that this country should at least keep abreast of China in all that tended to the diminution of the opium trade. Next year would be a crucial year in the movement, because at the end of the year they were going to revise what had been done, and he believed that it would be found that China was moving ahead much faster than England in suppressing the trade.

Dr. Scott Lidgett said that they were saddened by the enormity of the crime which this country had committed by encouraging the opium traffic for so many years, but they were thankful for the progress of the present movement.

The Rev. F. B. Meyer said that during his recent journey in China he had been convinced that China was acting bona fide in the matter of suppressing the opium trade. China was intensely anxious to hold her own as the leader of the Far East. She had been almost humiliated by recent events, which had caused her to take a secondary position, and one of the causes of the decadence of China had been the use of opium; hence the necessity of the new generation to wipe out the traffic.

The Rev. Frederick For, the Rev. Charles Brown, Professor Caldwell, and Sir Robert Liddell, M.P., also spoke.

M. J. G. Alexander said there had been a notable reduction in the opium production during the last three years, and this, in all probability, would not be detrimental to the planters. If there was any real difficulty about the Indian revenue, in consequence of the Chinese plan for hastening the stoppage of the trade, England, and not India, must come forward to make good any loss which might result.

The Hon. Tong Kai-Son said the opium trade was morally indefensible and a gigantic social evil. China was determined to abolish a trade which had brought starvation and misery to millions of families, and had checked the growth of national prosperity. China realized the desperate character of the fight, and was prepared to meet difficulties and to make sacrifices. The reduction in opium smoking had been most encouraging. Single-handed, however, China could not win, and needed the practical assistance of the British Government.

THE EASTERN BANK, LIMITED.
The Eastern Bank (Limited), with a capital of £1,000,000 in shares of £10, announced in London that the whole capital was offered for subscription at par. It is proposed to call up £5 per share and to leave £5 per share payable only in the event of the company's going into liquidation. The prospectus says:—
In view of the great expansion of Indian and Eastern trade, the Eastern Bank (Limited) has been established for the purpose of transacting both exchange and local banking.
The usual banking business will be undertaken. Shipments to and from India and the East will be financed, and there is a further large scope for the profitable employment of money by making advances to natives and Europeans against merchandise and other securities.
At certain seasons of the year the rates of interest that can be earned in India are very high, while in London money can be obtained at much lower rates.
Since no advance would be made over at high rates of interest except on good security, handsome profits can be made in this way, both on the capital of the bank and upon additional funds obtainable at low rates of interest.
Notwithstanding the expanding trade of India and the East, which has attracted large sums of money from investors in the United Kingdom and other European countries, there has been little increase in banking facilities during recent years. The need of a new bank with abundant capital and under European control is recognized and urged by a large number
